

Nina J.

About her family.

Nina J. married her husband on her birthday and together they had two children. She has five grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren. Nina taught kindergarten for thirty years.

Her favorite things to do and her biggest accomplishment.

She loved being the coach's wife and a mother to everyone. Her biggest accomplishment she says was teaching three generations.

Her favorite memories.

Nina still remembers watching the circus train go by on her parent's farm. She always enjoyed having candy in the candy jar and ice cream and coke in the refrigerator. She would also always wear very colorful jewelry because her students just loved it and always commented on it.
